✓	<input type="checkbox"/> Is knowledgeable of effective practices for learners with special needs.	<input type="checkbox"/> Provides unique learning opportunities such as inclusion and research based effective practices for learners with special needs.	<input type="checkbox"/> Effectively engages special needs learners in learning activities and ensures their unique learning needs are met.	<input type="checkbox"/> Adapts instruction for the benefit of learners with special needs and helps colleagues do the same for their learners.
	e. Teachers work collaboratively with the families and significant adults in the lives of their learners. Teachers recognize that educating learners is a shared responsibility involving the learning environment, caregivers, and the community. Teachers improve communication and collaboration between the learning environment and the home and community in order to promote trust and understanding and build partnerships with all segments of the learning community. Teachers seek solutions to overcome cultural and economic obstacles that may stand in the way of effective caregivers and community involvement in the education of their learners.
	<input type="checkbox"/> Responds to caregiver and community concerns.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Communicates and collaborates with the home and community for the benefit of learners.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Recognizes obstacles to caregiver and community participation and conscientiously seeks solutions to overcome them.	<input type="checkbox"/> Promotes trust and understanding throughout the learning community.

Examples of Artifacts:

- Learner profiles
- Learner surveys
- Lessons that integrate international content
- Documentation of referral data and use of IFSPs/IEPs/person centered plans
- Communications with caregivers/community
- Collaborations with caregivers
- Professional development on cultural attitudes and awareness
- Use of technology to incorporate cultural awareness into lessons

Standard III: Teachers know the content they teach.

Observation	a. Teachers align their instruction with the developmentally appropriate curriculum. In order to enhance the developmentally appropriate curriculum, teachers investigate the content standards developed by professional organizations in their specialty area. They develop and apply strategies to make the curriculum rigorous and relevant for all learners and provide a balanced curriculum that enhances literacy skills. Pre-K and Elementary teachers have explicit and thorough preparation in literacy instruction. Middle and high school teachers incorporate literacy instruction within the content area or discipline.
	Developing	Proficient	Accomplished	Distinguished	Not Demonstrated (Comment Required)
✓	<input type="checkbox"/> Demonstrates an awareness of the developmentally appropriate curriculum and references it in the preparation of lesson plans.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Understands the developmentally appropriate curriculum, uses it in preparation of lesson plans, and applies strategies to make the curriculum rigorous and relevant.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Develops and applies strategies based on the developmentally appropriate curriculum standards developed by professional organizations to make the curriculum balanced, rigorous and relevant.	<input type="checkbox"/> Assists colleagues in applying such strategies in their learning environments.
✓	<input type="checkbox"/> Integrates literacy instruction and/or literacy strategies within the content areas.	<input type="checkbox"/> Integrates effective literacy instruction throughout the curriculum and as appropriate in the content areas.	<input type="checkbox"/> Evaluates and reflects upon the effectiveness of literacy instruction and as appropriate in the content areas.	<input type="checkbox"/> Makes necessary changes to instructional practice to improve learner growth.

Observation	b. Teachers know the content appropriate to their teaching specialty. Teachers bring a richness and depth of understanding to their learning environments by knowing their subjects beyond the content they are expected to teach and by directing learners' natural curiosity into an interest in learning. Pre-K and Elementary teachers have broad knowledge across disciplines. Middle school and high school teachers have depth in one or more specific content areas or disciplines.
✓	<input type="checkbox"/> Demonstrates a basic level of content knowledge in teaching specialty to which assigned.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Demonstrates an appropriate level of content knowledge in the teaching specialty to which assigned.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Applies knowledge of subject beyond the content in assigned teaching specialty. Motivates learners to investigate the content area to expand their knowledge and satisfy their natural curiosity.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Extends knowledge of subject beyond content in their teaching specialty and sparks learners' curiosity for learning beyond the what is required
	c. Teachers recognize the interconnectedness of content areas/disciplines. Teachers know the links and vertical alignment of the grade or subject they teach and the developmentally appropriate curriculum. Teachers understand how the content they teach relates to other disciplines in order to deepen understanding and connect learning for learners. Teachers promote global awareness and its relevance to subjects they teach.
✓	<input type="checkbox"/> Understand the links between grade/subject and the developmentally appropriate curriculum.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Demonstrates knowledge of links between grade/subject and the developmentally appropriate curriculum.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Demonstrates knowledge of the links and vertical alignment of the grade or subject area and the developmentally appropriate curriculum. Relates content to other disciplines.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Collaborates with teachers from other grades or subject areas to establish links between disciplines and influence curriculum and teaching throughout the learning environment.
✓	<input type="checkbox"/> Displays global awareness.	<input type="checkbox"/> Promotes global awareness and its relevance to subjects.	<input type="checkbox"/> Integrates global awareness activities throughout lesson plans and learning environment instructional practices.	<input type="checkbox"/> Promotes global awareness and its relevance to all faculty members, influencing curriculum and teaching practices through the learning environment.

Observation	d. Teachers make instruction relevant to learners. Teachers incorporate 21st century life skills into their teaching deliberately, strategically, and broadly. These skills include leadership, ethics, accountability, adaptability, personal productivity, personal responsibility, people skills, self-direction, and social responsibility. Teachers help their learners understand the relationship between the developmentally appropriate curriculum and 21st century content, which includes global awareness; financial, economic, business and entrepreneurial literacy; civic literacy; and health awareness.
✓	<input type="checkbox"/> Identifies relationships between the developmentally appropriate curriculum and life in the 21st century.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Identifies relationships between the core content and 21st century content.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Integrates core content and 21st century content throughout lesson plans and learning environment instructional practices.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Deepens learners' understanding of 21st century skills and helps them make their own connections and develop new skills.

Examples of Artifacts:

- Celebration of creative learner work
- Use of the developmentally appropriate curriculum
- Lesson Plans
- Content standards

Standard IV: Teachers facilitate growth for their learners.

Observation	a. Teachers know the ways in which learning takes place, and they know the appropriate levels of intellectual, physical, social, and emotional development for their learners. Teachers know how learners think and learn. Teachers understand the influences that affect individual learner growth (development, culture, language proficiency, etc.) and differentiate their instruction accordingly. Teachers keep abreast of evolving research about learning. They adapt resources to address the strengths and weaknesses of their learners.
✓	<input type="checkbox"/> Understands developmental levels of learners and recognizes the need to differentiate instruction.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Understands developmental levels of learners and appropriately differentiates instruction.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Identifies appropriate developmental levels of learners and consistently and appropriately differentiates instruction.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Encourages and guides colleagues to adapt instruction to align with learners' developmental levels.
✓		<input type="checkbox"/> Assesses resources needed to address strengths and needs of learners.	<input type="checkbox"/> Reviews and uses alternative resources or adapts existing resources to take advantage of learner strengths or address needs.	<input type="checkbox"/> Stays abreast of current research about learning and emerging resources and adopts or adapts them for the benefit of all learners.
	b. Teachers plan instruction appropriate for their learners. Teachers collaborate with their colleagues and use a variety of data sources for short- and long-range planning based on the developmentally appropriate curriculum process. These plans reflect an understanding of how learners grow. Teachers engage in the learning process. They Understand that instructional plans must be consistently monitored and modified to enhance learning. Teachers make the curriculum responsive to cultural differences and individual learning needs.
✓	<input type="checkbox"/> Recognizes data sources important to planning instruction.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Uses a variety of data for short- and long- range planning of instruction. Monitors and modifies instructional plans to enhance learner growth.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Monitors learner performance and responds to individual learning needs in order to engage learners in growth	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Monitors learner performance and responds to cultural diversity and learning needs through the learning environment improvement process.

Observation	c. Teachers use a variety of instructional methods. Teachers choose the methods and techniques that are most effective in meeting the needs of their learners as they strive to eliminate achievement gaps. Teachers employ a wide range of techniques including information and communication technology, learning styles, and differentiated instruction.
✓	<input type="checkbox"/> Demonstrates awareness of variety of methods and materials necessary to meet the needs of all learners.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Demonstrates awareness or use of appropriate methods and materials necessary to meet the needs of all learners.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Ensures the success of all learners through the selection and utilization of appropriate methods and materials.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Stays abreast of emerging research areas and new and innovative materials and incorporates them into lesson plans and instructional strategies.
	d. Teachers integrate and utilize a variety of technologies in their instruction. Teachers know when and how to use those technologies to maximize learner growth. Teachers help learners use technology to learn content, think critically, solve problems, discern reliability, use information, communicate, innovate, and collaborate.
✓	<input type="checkbox"/> Assesses effective types of technologies to use for instruction.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Demonstrates knowledge of how to utilize technologies in instruction.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Integrates technologies with instruction to maximize learner growth.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Provides evidence of learner engagement in higher level thinking skills through the integration of technologies.

Observation	e. Teachers help learners develop critical-thinking and problem-solving skills. Teachers encourage learners to ask questions, think creatively, develop and test innovative ideas, synthesize knowledge, and draw conclusions. They help learners exercise and communicate sound reasoning; understand connections; make complex choices; and frame, analyze, and solve problems.
✓	<input type="checkbox"/> Understands the importance of developing learner's critical-thinking and problem solving skills.	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Demonstrates knowledge of processes needed to support learners in acquiring critical thinking skills and problem solving skills.	... and Teaches learners the processes needed to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> think creatively and critically, <input type="checkbox"/> develop and test innovative ideas, <input type="checkbox"/> synthesize knowledge, <input type="checkbox"/> draw conclusions, <input type="checkbox"/> exercise and communicate sound reasoning, <input type="checkbox"/> understand connections, <input type="checkbox"/> make complex choices, and <input type="checkbox"/> frame analyze and solve problems. 	... and <input type="checkbox"/> Encourages and assists teachers throughout the learning environment to integrate critical thinking and problem solving skills into their instructional practices.
	f. Teachers help learners work in teams and develop leadership qualities. Teachers teach the importance of cooperation and collaboration. They organize learning teams in order to help learners define roles, strengthen social ties, improve communication and collaborative skills, interact with people from different cultures and backgrounds, and develop leadership qualities.
